Ask Edward anything

Hi Edward...

Is breakfast included with my booking?

Can you book me a taxi to the airport?

Can I order a chicken salad to my room?

How far away is the nearest train station?

What time does your gym open?

Born out of data

Edward was created to meet the demand for more self-service and digital communication tools – based on data and research conducted with guests and staff.

Innovative, AI technology

Edward is always learning – today he can handle over 1,600 topics in 59 languages and counting, by SMS or through the app.

Efficient assistance

Edward replies to guests' queries instantly, sending push notifications to staff in relevant departments when a guest makes a request – from room service orders to extra pillows.

Enhanced customer service

Available to guests before, during and after their stay, Edward also personalises future stays based on previous customer preferences.

Loved by users

“

(...) If we needed something Edward sorted it out from extra pillows to directions to the tube. It was absolutely fabulous.”

Guest's TripAdvisor feedback

Loved the online checkout plus the receipt of text from my virtual host advisor”

Guest's TripAdvisor feedback
